DETAILED ACTION

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the electromagnetic clutch must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite in that it fails to point out what is included or excluded by the claim language. This claim is an omnibus type claim. An omnibus claim requires no further action by the examiner.
4. Claim 1 is rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claim(s) are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claim(s) must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited.

Claim 1 is of multiple sentence form.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over De Risi in view of Rice.

De Risi discloses the field of the invention, including a primary engine having an electromagnetic clutch and belt, for driving a pump. Outlets 1-4, each controlled by a solenoid actuated valve are provides and positioned as claimed. Additional outlets may be provided as desired at bow or stern, for propulsion. The solenoid valves and clutch are controlled via control board 9 positioned on the bridge.

De Risi fails to mention the use of his pump to also pump water from the bilge, nor the use of pump output to fight fires.

Rice teaches an engine driven waterjet maneuvering system which when desired is further operative to pump water from the bilge as well as use pump output to fight fires.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to provide further utility to the device of De Risi by provision of a bilge water inlet to the pump, as well as an outlet therefrom used for fighting fires.

Such a combination would have been desirable at the time of the invention so as to provide for safety of the crew.

The shaping of various pipe sections (U-shaped) such is considered to have been an obvious design consideration to the ordinary routineer working in the art at the time of the invention, and providing no unexpected results. Like wise the number of switches employed to activate the valves and clutch is considered to have been an obvious design consideration to the ordinary routineer working in the art at the time of the invention, and providing no unexpected results. For example, provision of a master switch A, such as an ignition switch to provide electrical power to all the other switches (one for each valve) would have been common sense. Actuation of such other switches then would effect sideways movement as claimed.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Dunn and Kiliz et al. show small boat thrusters.
